

Is the EU able to deliver on security and peace?

Final dissemination event

In the framework of the EU-funded FP7 project EU-GRASP

www.eugrasp.eu

25 January 2012

Brussels, Belgium

EU-GRASP aims to contribute to the analysis and articulation of the current and future role of the EU as a global actor in multilateral security governance, in a context of challenged multilateralism, where the EU aims at “effective multilateralism”. This project therefore examines the notion and practice of multilateralism in order to provide the required theoretical background for assessing the linkages between the EU’s current security activities with multi-polarism, international law, regional integration processes and the United Nations system.

The conference shall take place at: Science14 Atrium
14b, Rue de la Science
1040, Brussels

Programme (tbc)

09.00-09.30	Welcome Coffee
09.30-09.45	Opening address Dr. Angela Liberatore, DG Research & Innovation, European Commission
09.45-10.15	Presenting the project EU-GRASP Academic Coordinator Prof. Dr. Luk Van Langenhove, United Nations University UNU-CRIS
10.15-10.45	Presenting the main findings Prof. Dr. Ademola Abass, UNU-CRIS
10.45-11.00	Presenting foresight exercise results Prof. Dr. Lorenzo Fioramonti, University of Pretoria; FPPW Florence
11.00-11.30	EU-GRASP Policy recommendations

Prof. Dr. Luk Van Langenhove, UNU-CRIS

11.30-12.15

Panel debate

Chaired by Prof. Dr. Andy Cooper, Centre for International Governance Innovation & University of Waterloo

With interventions from:

Nicola Harrington, United Nations Development Programme

Dr. Louise Fawcett, Oxford University

Alain Délotroz, International Crisis Group

Álvaro de Vasconcelos, European Union Institute for Security Studies

12.15-13.00

Lunch buffet

offered to all participants

Attendance is free but registration is necessary. For registration, please contact Rik Vanhauteghem at: rvanhauteghem@cris.unu.edu

Final registration deadline: 23 January 2012